A dark, grainy, black and white photograph showing a close-up of a textured surface, possibly a book cover or endpaper, with a prominent diagonal crease or fold line. The image is very dark and has a high level of contrast, with some lighter areas visible along the fold and in the upper right corner. There are some small, dark spots and specks scattered across the surface, which could be dust or imperfections in the material. The overall appearance is that of a low-quality, high-contrast scan of a physical object.

THE GRAND OLD MAN.

GLADSTONE PRASED FOR HIS ALLUSION TO THE IRISH QUESTION.

The Liberal Irish Policy—Bryce's Appointment—Gladstone's Address—The Irish Press on Gladstone's Address—The Starving Fishermen of Gaspé—Foreign News.

Special Cablegram to the Post-Dispatch. LONDON, February 5.—Gladstone's address to his constituents received great praise for his skill in sympathetic allusion to the Irish question, without showing his own hand. There is no special comment on it. As the Daily News says, he has set the world talking for two months, and sits by listening. It is decided that Northbrook will not be lord-lieutenant. Lord Aberdeen is mentioned, also Lord Richard Grosvenor, who will be made a peer. Bryce has received the important appointment of lord-lieutenant, and it gives great satisfaction.

GLADSTONE'S LETTER. The Daily News in its editorial, says it quite agrees with the New York press about Gladstone's ill-mannered letter to the Harpers. It adds: "There appears to be some fear that the gentleman who so bravely and so manly accepted in the states as presenting the average specimen of the courtesy of Englishmen of letters. We venture, on the other part, to disown any sympathy with this exhibition of temper."

Alphonse Daudet is ill in Paris.

The Liberal Policy.

Special Cablegram to the Post-Dispatch. LONDON, February 5.—Sir William Harcourt, the new chancellor of the exchequer, whose address to his constituents is out to-day, is for Derby. He was claimed by the radicals as one of their leaders until the formation of Mr. Gladstone's cabinet in 1885. His policy as head of the house of commons was to support the radicals, and he gradually drifted away from the whigs, and though he is fixed on for a peerage at the end of the present session, the radical chancellors in the new liberal cabinet, Harcourt has a safe seat in Derby. The election address of other cabinet ministers who have to seek re-election following. They may be summarized in a sentence as follows: more or less the line indicated by the forecast yesterday of Mr. Gladstone's address to the electors of Midlothian published to-day. Mr. Gladstone will make a general statement of his policy on the radical assumption of office, to be followed, probably on Monday, the 15th, by the introduction of the first of the IRISH MEASURES.

The inquiry Mr. Morley, the new Irish secretary, is preparing to stage into the alleged necessity of coercive measures in Ireland will be extended so as to cover the whole question of evictions. Thus both houses will hear. The Conservative party managers are to-day considering the question of opposing the return of members of parliament seeking re-election on appointment to the cabinet. It is customary to allow cabinet ministers to be returned unopposed and the rule is only broken in objectionable cases. The local Conservatives of Newcastle, Birmingham and Derby are opposed with candidates to oppose Morley, Chamberlain and Harcourt, but in each case opposition would be useless, and the feeling is strong in the Tory ranks against a vain expenditure of money. The provincial press, discussing the matter, go back to the electorate, may be summed up as expressing the opinion that Mr. Gladstone has displayed rare sagacity in the choice of his instruments, who, with three exceptions, may be relied on to dance to his piping.

Chamberlain is not to be pilled on. He goes into the cabinet with the avowed intention of pushing on the radical programme, and with the conviction that the cabinet is destined to break up under any circumstances before any of Gladstone's Irish measures have reached the second stage. Lord Hartington and Mr. Goschen show no disposition to desert the Liberal split by heading a Whig secession. They preserve an attitude of observant independence in readiness to support Gladstone or to oppose him, as the unfolding of his policy may dictate. The Parnellites are silent spectators of the ministerial transformation scene. None of the responsible leaders of the party have committed themselves to premature enthusiasm over the cabinet likely enough to be destined to failure, and promises of legislation that may come to naught.

England.

GLADSTONE'S APPOINTMENTS.

LONDON, February 5.—Mr. J. Collins, Liberal member of parliament for Ipswich, whose "three acres and a cow" amendment to the address in reply to the queen's speech caused the overthrow of the Conservative government, has been appointed by Mr. Gladstone secretary of the local government board.

Mr. J. Rigby, Liberal member for Walsingham, Cambridgeshire, has been appointed solicitor-general.

OPTION OF THE IRISH PRESS.

DUBLIN, February 5.—The Freeman's Journal, commenting on Mr. Gladstone's election address to his constituents, says the minister explicitly recognizes that no settlement of the land or education question in Ireland is possible without Irish self-government.

The Express (Conservative) says it is hesitating to be confronted with such talk as Mr. Gladstone's address contains about an inquiry into the affairs of Ireland, when the radical ministers know that crime, boycotting and breach of contract are rampant in this country.

HARCOURT'S ADDRESS.

Sir William Verel Harcourt, the new chancellor of the exchequer, in his address to the electors of Derby, soliciting a return to parliament, states he will do all in his power to co-operate with the new government in the work of solving the Irish question in a way that will maintain the union and the supremacy of the crown.

The Balkans.

SERBIA'S REPLY.

VIENNA, February 5.—Serbia has handed to Austria a reply to their last collective note to her demanding disarmament. The reply was exceedingly brief and simply declared that Serbia has taken cognizance of the contents of the note.

A VALUABLE AGREEMENT.

St. Petersburg, February 5.—The Journal of St. Petersburg, commenting on the Bulgarian agreement, declares that it is valuable and that it is a step towards the settlement of the powers and to be approved by them.

The Dominion.

TROUBLED STARTING.

MONTREAL, February 5.—The most distressing intelligence comes to be received from Gaspé, regarding the starving condition of the fishermen and their families, who have been thrown out of employment by the suspension of the Robinson & Co. Co. of Montreal. The Dominion government has been petitioned to grant the fishermen a loan of $100,000 as a loan, as there seems to be no hope of the firm resuming business. A communication has been received by the mayor here from the mayor of Gaspé and an association, asking for aid and assistance in the case of the fishermen.

THE REPUBLICAN SENATORS PREPARING TO ATTACK THE ADMINISTRATION.

Why Senator Hale Weakened—Senator Platt's Resolution—The Pan Electric Investigation—Good Pay and No Work—The Eight-Hour Law—Congressional Proceedings—Washington News.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch. WASHINGTON, D. C., February 5.—Senator Edmunds is busily working on the report of the judicial committee, the important report, which is to be made in open session, probably early next week. There may be an extra session of the committee to-morrow if Mr. Edmunds gets his report ahead by that time. The report will be brought into the senate, if possible, on Monday. Whether a resolution will be offered giving the committee power to call for persons and papers in the district case, the Republican senators are not ready to say. Their action in this respect will depend largely upon the attitude assumed by one or two of the Republican majority who are looked upon as "doubtful stars" in the senate.

SENATE GIVES HIM THE OPINION, for Which He Was Yearning. The second St. Louis game in the great chess match between Zukertort and Steinitz began this afternoon at the Harmonie club. The time set for the beginning of the game was 5 o'clock, and long before that hour about a half-dozen gentlemen gathered in the hall and looked expectantly at the big board placed before them. In the room where the players sit Mr. S. M. Joseph, C. F. Wadsworth, chess editor of the Auburn City Advertiser, Mr. Max Judd and the second of the players, chess editor of the New York Herald, were seated around and discussed the merits of the last game and the probability of the winning man in the game to-day.

FOX GETS A HEARING.

QUO WARRANTO PROCEEDINGS IN THE HOUSE MULLER.

Council for Fox Presents His Case and City

Councilor Bell Speaks for All—The Court

Takes the Case Under Advice—The House Will Await the Court's Decision.

The quo warranto proceeding instituted in the name of the state at the relation of the circuit attorney and Ed P. Fox against Henry

Alt, relative to the speakership of the house of delegates, was brought before Judge

Thayer this morning in court No. 8. The city councilor, in behalf of Mr. Alt, filed a return or answer to the writ, and the argument was upon a demurrer to the return which W.

B. Thompson and given Campbell, counsel for

Mr. Fox, filed this morning. The court-room was well filled with members of the municipal assembly, and there was a fair sprinkling of politicians, great interest being manifested in the argument.

ward. His hair was badly combed and his coat covered with bandages. Three fingers of his right hand were badly injured and he was unable to hold a pen. He was smoking a cigar and did not seem to be in any particular hurry. He said that he had been playing a great many tricks

on the witnesses, who had testified against him, and that he was now going to give the name of the party to who he was indebted for the money
